The following items may also be of help to you in your planning for a cremains burial:

1. The cemetery does not provide a tent or chairs for cremains graveside services. Tents and chairs are commonly provided by the vault company for a traditional burial.
2. Some families choose to bring a small table on which to place the container and other items for display during the services.
3. The grave opening will be prepared prior to the scheduled services. It will be covered with plywood to prevent accidents. The plywood and the dirt removed will be covered. There will also be a small amount of additional space in the surrounding grounds that will be covered.
4. There will be someone standing by so that, following the graveside service, that person can place the remains in the grave and close it after mourners begin to disperse (unless family members choose to remain or ask to be involved).
