American Funeral Record

A READY REFERENCE DAY-BOOK FOR UNDERTAKERS.

A few words of explanation to the man who enters up the order for Funeral Arrangements:

This Record Book will be of great assistance to your profession in entering up funerals and arrangements for same, correctly, intelligently and completely. You will find it prudent to record all items that are given therein, as in doing this you will not only enhance the prestige of the profession, but also create admiration and confidence of your patrons in your work. Record items of a deceased are looked for at the Undertakers quite frequently, and the more exact you keep record of incidentals that have bearing on the Funeral, the better will be the results.

In entering up your work, observe the following:

State full name of the deceased on first line and note on same line the relative position of same to the one the funeral is to be charged to; for instance: wife of, or son of, or daughter of, etc.

The two clauses "Order given by" and "How secured," are self-explaining. They will assist you very materially in overcoming the slight embarrassment incident to asking security for an account.

The clause "Cause of Death" is very essential for several reasons: 1, to know whether the subject died of a contagious disease; 2, to adopt correct measures for embalming; 3, to ascertain the necessity of disinfection, etc.

Occupation of the deceased, single or married, religion and age, are matters of biographical record and should be entered up most exact and correct in every case.

The grave chart is put in a most convenient form in this Record Book and the advantage in keeping strict record of the places of graves is apparent. It will be highly appreciated by those ordering the Funeral, as it will save to them and to yourself a special trip to the cemetery.

The pleasing and correct rotation, observed in the bill of items to be charged, is an essential and most practical feature of the chart and this part of the record alone is worth the price of the book. Fill out such items as you were called upon to furnish, and leave the others blank. Read all the items when rendering bill, and you are than sure that you have not omitted any charge. The extra lines on bill of items are for such charges as the printed items do not provide for. You may for instance be called upon to charge outlays, such as Railroad Fares, Trolley Car Service, etc.

The Ledger part on bottom of each page will enable you to keep account of your entire funeral work in one book, though you may prefer to transfer the total of the bill as one item into your regular Ledger.

This Funeral Record has been compiled after laborious and close study into the proper requirements of your profession. It is the result of years of experience and if you will carefully enter up the spaces provided in this book you will find that every item that might possibly be needed for future reference is recorded.

You will find it prudent to record all items that are given therein, as in doing this you will not only enhance the prestige of the profession, but also create admiration and confidence of your patrons in your work. Record items of a deceased are looked for at the Undertaker's quite frequently, and the more exact the record is kept with data that have bearing on the funeral, the better will be the results.

In entering up your work, observe the following:

Do not hesitate to get and fill in all possible information to make the biographical record of the deceased complete.

The two clauses, "Order given by," and "How secured," are important. They will assist you very materially in overcoming the embarrassment incident to asking security for an account. It is also of importance to have party who orders the funeral sign in the space provided for at bottom of sheet.

The clause "Cause of Death" is very essential for several reasons: 1, to know whether the subject died of a contagious disease; 2, to adopt correct measures for embalming; 3, to ascertain necessity of disinfection, etc.

Date of birth, occupation of the deceased, single or married, religion and age, are matters of biographical record and should be entered up most exact and correct in every case.

FUNERAL ETHICS

The average Funeral Director, while conversant with the details of funeral work, cannot fail to find the following rules on Funeral Etiquette interesting reading matter, with the chances of finding among them some points, the close observance of which will be of benefit to him, to-wit:

In all things use good judgement and cool deliberation in performing your work, and remember that you are not called upon to console the bereaved, but to take care of the remains, and do that in the most competent and least ostentatious way.

Be courteous and polite under any and all circumstances, however trying. Refrain from alluding to your work as "a job"; it is not only bad form, but is also apt to offend your patrons. Term it "a call," "a funeral," or "an order."

Perform your work in a quiet and considerate manner and make as few requests of the family as possible. Talk in an undertone while at the funeral house.

When selling the Casket and Furnishings, ascertain what means there are, and how much money is calculated to be expended for the funeral, then recommend the highest class goods within the amount.

Should you be confronted with the argument that lower prices than yours are quoted or promised by associations or parties who solicit funerals on a life subscription plan, you may well ask the customer if he or she had investigated the promoter's financial responsibility. If it becomes absolutely necessary, meet the price, rather than lose the business. But, you would best investigate yourself what "if's" might be in those promoters' contracts; also whether they are not racketeers outright. (See resolution adopted in October. 1937, by the "Disabled Veterans of the World War, St. Louis Chapter No. 1.)

If you are offered as security for funeral expenses an insurance policy of a company you are not familiar with, you can make inquiry at the Better Business Bureau or at the insurance commissioner's office of your state.

Take correct note of all arrangements for the funeral. Be sure that you have a clear understanding with your customer on all points pertaining to the funeral arrangements, and then note same in your Funeral Record Book. Also be careful that you have the correct spelling of name for the newspapers, etc. A memorandum sheet of the American Funeral Record will assist you greatly in these functions.

Take note of as many of the biographical items, such as religion, age, occupation, etc., of the deceased as you can obtain by easy suasion and insert them in the proper spaces provided in this Record Book. Items of record of a deceased are often inquired for at the Undertaker's, and by keeping complete account and record of all things, your patrons will see convincingly that you are doing your work on up-to-date principles, and that a funeral is handled by you better than a mere "putting the body under ground."

Preferably have immediate relatives take last view of the remains prior to arrival of friends for the funeral.

Avoid all delay, hitch or misunderstanding with your helpers. Instruct bearers, drivers and others beforehand.

Use Badge with delicate flowers or smilax on the door instead of the antiquated cloth crepe.

Lining with evergreen helps very materially to make a grave seem less distressing during interment.

A very desirable adjunct to your equipment is some matting, and possibly a tent to use at the cemetery, in sunshine or storm. The bereaved will appreciate it.

By all means paint or stain the outside box or shipping case.

At the funeral services the sermon precedes the speeches of lodge members, whose speeches are usually made at the grave. If societies attend in a body the principal services are held at the grave; Roman Catholic always at the church. Where both, the WHITE SHRINE and the EASTERN STAR are represented, the WHITE SHRINE functions first, because the Commitment in the EASTERN STAR ceremony really concludes the service.

Order of funeral cortege is best arranged as follows: Automobile with pallbearers—hearse—minister's and chief mourners' autos—autos of friends. If lodge members conduct the rites, the lodge members lead the procession.

At military funerals place flag on casket with the field (stars) over left side of casket (indicating: over the heart). Poppies may be placed on the flag—but no other flowers. In leading processions with flags, the National Flag must always be carried to the right of all other flags and in change of formation it must never be crossed.

Where the deceased is buried without any religious services, or where the mourners are unable to engage the services of a preacher, the funeral director may officiate and offer the prayer.

If remains are to be shipped, have departure from the house, funeral parlor or church set so as to be at the depot at least an hour before train time. This will allow for any special arrangements or delays.

Stillborns are buried by the undertaker alone. It is unusual that any of the family attend the interment.

Where bodies are neither embalmed nor put on ice, keep in coolest place possible, perhaps best between two open windows, with the sunshades drawn down as far as needed, and use a bleacher frequently over face and hands of the deceased. Where death resulted from a contagious disease, follow State Regulations.

Let the entire funeral be conducted in a dignified and well-ordered manner, and you will have conferred a lasting favor upon those who required the sorrowful need of your service. This is the best method of advertising an undertaker can employ, and it is the stepping-stone for sure success.
